

Do you want to be a judge?

The National Service User Awards (NSUA) are about recognising and celebrating achievements of service users around the country. There are five different categories to judge and you will help decide the national finalists in one of them as well as attend the awards in May.

Colwick Hall in Nottingham, where the 2019 awards were held.

If you wish to apply, speak to your ward Occupational Therapist or email events@cygnethealth.co.uk by the end of December.